

“Notable Quotables”

“I can offer testimonial that IMN's conferences are the best I have attended. This specific conference not only provides the information upon which to base current decisions, it also provides insight into what decisions will be made about in the future as the market evolves. And this information is communicated in very understandable fashion by professionals who are accessible for further conversation as needed. Professional, all the way around.”

“I have attended many of your very fine IMN conferences over the years. Last year I attended the Exchange Traded Funds event in Key Biscayne, Florida. That ETF conference was a wonderful event that was very well organized and very well attended. Every one of the sessions were conducted with utmost professionalism. All of the presentations were thorough, practical and sophisticated. Every presentation added some insight and knowledge that one needs to fully understand and appreciate the intricacies of that new and exciting ETF product. It was an invaluable experience.”
